1. OPEN ACCESS

By default your article will be published in the journal with standard subscription-based access and you are not required to pay an open access charge.

Ticking this box means that you agree to pay a charge to have your Article published instead under Open Access. Please check carefully the relevant details at <http://www.lms.ac.uk/content/mik-openaccess> before agreeing to pay this charge. The charge is payable to the London Mathematical Society. Your article will then be made freely available online (see footnote[†] on next page for more details).

- 2. In consideration of the publication in Mathematika of the Contribution, the Contributor assigns to University College London the full copyright in all forms and media in the Contribution, subject to clause 3 below. University College London shall:
- (a) publish, reproduce, display, store and distribute the Contribution or extracts therefrom in all formats and media (including without limitation print, digital and electronic media) and in all languages throughout the world and to create an abstract and/or summary of the Contribution;
 - (b) itself license others to publish, display, reproduce, store and distribute the Contribution or extracts therefrom in all forms and media and in any language and to create an abstract and/or summary of the Contribution, such right to include the licensing of reprographic rights organisations ('RROs'), such as the Copyright Licensing Agency, UK, the Copyright Clearance Centre, USA, and the Copyright Agency Limited, Australia, to authorise the reproduction of the Contribution under the general terms and conditions agreed with the relevant RRO. (Licensees, other than RROs, wishing to use the Contribution as a whole will also be required to obtain the prior approval of the Contributor.)

3. Notwithstanding the assignment of copyright in their contribution, all Contributors retain the following rights:
 - (a) the right to (continue to) post a preprint of the contribution on the Author(s)/Contributor's personal or institutional web page or in an electronic archive, provided that also a journal reference is given to the published version (including DOI or published page numbers, or 'to appear') and that a statement is made that the two versions are different;
 - (b) the right to make printed or secure electronic copies of the Contribution or an adapted version or extracts therefrom for the Author(s)/Contributor's own purposes, including the right to make multiple hard copies or to store in secure electronic reserve for course use by their own students, provided no sale is involved;
 - (c) the right to reproduce the Contribution or an adapted version or extracts therefrom in any work of which the Author(s)/Contributor are the editor or author. Permission will be given to the publisher of such a work subject to an application being made to the Publisher, London Mathematical Society, De Morgan House, 57-58 Russell Square, London WC1B 4HS, UK.
4. The Author(s) hereby assert their moral rights in accordance with the UK Copyright Designs and Patents Act 1988.
5. The Author(s) hereby warrant and represent that they are the sole Author(s) of the Contribution, that nothing in the Contribution is defamatory, violates any right of privacy, infringes any intellectual property rights, or is otherwise unlawful.
6. The Author(s) further warrant that all necessary permissions have been obtained from the copyright owners for any material included in the Contribution in which they do not hold copyright. (The relevant permissions correspondence must be attached to this form.)
7. The Contributor hereby authorises the University College London at its sole expense to take such steps in the Contributor/Author(s)' names as it considers necessary in the event that copyright in the Contribution is infringed by a third party.

Where the Contributor is the Author(s): I, the undersigned, hereby warrant that I am a co-owner of the material and have full power to make this agreement on behalf of all the Authors, or otherwise that I am the sole owner of the material and have full power to make this agreement.

Signed for and on behalf of the Contributor:
